Annexation Justice Requires Referral and Repeal of Act 298 of '71

A state-wide petition is being circulated to refer to a popular vote Act 298 of 1971, and since your editor will shortly begin circulating copies of the petition in Southwest Arkansas this is a good time to tell what it's all about.

Act 298 of 1971 ought to be put on the next general election ballot and defeated. It deals with the problem of how to manage city annexation plans with justice to both sides—the city annexers, and the rural areas that the city proposes to annex.

Up to 1969 annexation was run in a high-handed way. There was a single counting of votes, simply the combined total of the big city and the small rural area adjacent to it. In boxing it would be like a mismatch between a heavyweight and a bantam.

The city would have won in every instance but for the fact that frequently the city divided on the issue, some city-dwellers contending that the urban government already had more obligations than it had money with which to meet them. The dissidents within the city therefore voted with their suburban neighbors and blocked annexation.

But it was an unjust system, and many times rural areas were brought under city rule against their will.

In 1969 the legislature remedied this wrong by passing Act 65, which provided that an annexation plan had to command a majority in both the city and the rural area, the votes being tabulated separately. City politicians called Act 65 "The City-Killer Bill."

In the 1971 General Assembly the city politicians repealed Act 65 by passing Act 298, putting things back the way they were in the old days—lumping an annexation election in a single ballot-count—the small rural area being obviously overwhelmed by the big city vote.

The average citizen's idea of annexation is a contract that both parties should agree on. The rural resident has as much right to say whether or not he wants to live in the country as a city man does about his residence in town. This right was guaranteed by Act 65—but would be destroyed if Act 298 of 1971 is permitted to stand.

The city politicians called Act 65 "The City Killer"—and of course 65's friends now are calling Act 298 "The County Killer."

The objective of the petition now being circulated is to kill "The County Killer."

How you feel about the matter has nothing to do with your signing the petition. Simple justice should persuade you to sign it so the people can vote for or against Act 298 as they choose in the next general election.

Your editor will organize petition canvassing teams in the next week or so and will campaign in Hempstead and Nevada counties at least, perhaps in the entire southwestern county group.

There seems to be a communication gap right here in The Star office. I wrote in this column yesterday that Circulation Manager Pod Rogers was taking some of our newspaper carriers to Dogpatch, U.S.A., this coming week-end. But it seems that every newsboy knew they were actually going to Six Flags this Saturday, and Dogpatch in July. So I stand corrected in my own house.

No Partisan Basis in Vote

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled Monday that judges and clerks in school elections are not to be appointed on a partisan basis.

Lelan Henley, Republican minority member of the Searcy County Election Commission, last February asked Circuit Judge Joe D. Villines to order the board to permit him to select one judge and one clerk for each precinct in the March 9 election in the St. Joe School District.

Petitions to Bar Law on Annexation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Petitions asking that the state's new annexation law be referred to the 1972 general election were filed Monday with the secretary of state's office.

The petitions were filed by former state Rep. John I. Purtle, who is attorney for the Committee to Preserve Act 65. About 500 names were on the petitions filed Monday. Purtle said petitions would be filed several times a week until the required 37,000 names are secured.

The committee has until July 18 to submit the required signatures to refer the issue to the electorate.

Purtle is author of Act 65, which requires the approval of voters of both a city and an area to be annexed before the area can be taken into a city's limits. Under a law passed by this year's General Assembly, the votes in the proposed annexation area are combined and a simple majority determines the issue.

Woman Has Nonuplets, 2 Still Alive

SYDNEY (AP) — Only two of the nine babies born to Mrs. Leonard Brodrick remained alive today, 60 hours after their birth, and the condition of the surviving boy and girl continued to cause concern, the hospital reported.

Two more of the nonuplets died early today and Monday night. Both were girls, one of them the first-born girl who weighed 2 pounds, 2 ounces and had appeared to have the best chance of survival.

Since the multiple birth early Sunday, each hospital bulletin had said her condition was "satisfactory considering her size." This was not said of the other surviving babies.

Two boys were stillborn, and two boys and a girl died Sunday night.

The latest hospital bulletin said the condition of the two surviving infants was unchanged, meaning they were still having breathing difficulties. The boy weighed 12 ounces and the girl about one pound.

Most Americans Are Actually Overfed But Really Undernourished

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The diet of affluent Americans able to afford any foods they choose is less nutritious than it was a decade ago. The problem: we are overfed but remain undernourished. As a result, experts say, 10 per cent of the population may be anemic and 25 per cent overweight.

Another factor in the problem: adult Americans who drink get from 10 to 20 per cent of their total calories from alcohol.

What is happiness to you? Asked to give a brief definition of it, Oliver Wendell Holmes once said: "Four feet on a fireplace fender."

The horse is making a comeback. The U.S. Census Bureau estimates the nation's horse population at 7.5 million, compared to a low of about three million in 1960.

How do cities spend their money? Well, a recent study showed that the largest amount per capita—averaging $33.93—was for education. Other per capita expenditures: police protection, $22.21; highways, $19.51, and public welfare, $18.29.

Quotable notables: "As a city increases in 'population and wealth,' it becomes less able to afford the things that make life gracious, interesting, and amusing."—Lewis Mumford.

Word Game: Crossword puzzles were invented in 1917 by Arthur Wynne, a New York newspaper editor, who originally called them word-cross puzzles.

Payoff in safety: A recent survey found that teen-age drivers who took a school course in driving had 58 per cent fewer accidents than untrained young motorists.

Naughty, naughty: The killjoys are at it again: Are you one of those in-between eaters who like to raid the refrigerator for midnight snacks? Well, you'd better stop it. A dietician says these raids indicate insecurity and a desire for maternal reassurance. You are mistaking the refrigerator for your mommy.

Genius in pain: Do you tend to use ill health or handicaps as an excuse for not achieving success? Well, Thomas A. Edison, in addition to his deafness, was sick almost half his life with insomnia, had digestion, diabetes and gastric ulcers. Beethoven, the composer, and Dryden, the poet, were deaf. Milton was blind. Pope was an invalid who had to wear a corset to keep his spine upright, Heine wrote some of his most lyric verse while bedridden. Lord Byron had epilespy, and Dr. Samuel Johnson was scrofulous and a hypochondriac.

Pharmacists Plan Meet

Public Works Bill Loaded Politically

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise bill loaded with political potential and $5.5 billion for public works was lined up today for a final House vote that could send the measure on a fatal trip to the White House.

The bill, a key part of the Democratic program to bolster the economy and cut unemployment, includes a $2-billion provision conflicting with President Nixon's revenue-sharing program.

Republicans have mentioned the probability of a veto each time the bill has come to a vote: when the House and Senate passed different versions, and when the Senate, in a party-line vote last week, adopted a compromise, 45 to 33.

The GOP objects chiefly to a section authorizing $2 billion for accelerated public-works projects in high-unemployment areas. The president would cover the same ground, Republicans say, with no-strings-attached federal grants to local government.

"Much propaganda accompanied the introduction of this legislation in an effort to convince the public that it will expeditiously meet the current unemployment problem," Republican dissenters said April 1 when the House Public Works Committee approved the $2 billion. "We are gravely concerned that many people will be disillusioned when their needs are not met by this legislation."

The bill also authorizes $1.95 billion to help local governments upgrade their economies through loans and other construction aids; $1.5 billion for the 13-state Appalachian regional development program, and $305 million for five other regional commissions.

The original Senate bill was designed to extend the regional programs four years and the Appalachian highway program five years.

Goldwater Tried to Get LBJ to Tell Truth on War During Campaign

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he suggested to former President Lyndon B. Johnson during the 1964 White House campaign they jointly tell the American people the Vietnam war would have to be widened with bombing and troops—no matter who won the presidency.

Goldwater disclosed his 1964 proposal in an interview Monday after the New York Times published a report indicating the Johnson administration agreed Sept. 7, 1964 — during the campaign — that it probably would be necessary to bomb North Vietnam early in 1965.

Among considerations in that timing, the study said, was that "the President was in the midst of an election campaign in which he was presenting himself as the candidate of reason and restraint as opposed to the quixotic Barry Goldwater."

Goldwater said he knew even before his formal campaign began that North Vietnam would be bombed eventually and at least 500,000 American troops would have to be sent to South Vietnam.

Goldwater, who left his Arizona Senate seat to run for the White House and was elected to the Senate again in 1968, said his knowledge of the outlook in South Vietnam came not from the Johnson administration, but from his own contacts.

"I knew that there were plans being made for expansion of the war ... ," he said. "By putting two and two together, we came up with pretty much of a scenario of what Johnson was going to do.

"I could have opened my mouth. I was being pictured as bomb-happy. I was on the short end and I knew it. But to talk about it, I would have had to use secret information ... And, frankly, who would have believed me? So I kept my mouth shut ... "

Goldwater said he does not regret his decision. He said his election showing would have been better—although the outcome would not have been changed—had he disclosed in the campaign what he knew to be the likely course of the administration.

"But I couldn't have lived with myself," he said.

Times Will Ignore U.S. Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — The Justice Department began court proceedings today to prevent the New York Times from further publication of articles about a secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war.

Lawyers for the federal government and the Times entered the courtoom of U.S. District Court Judge Murray I. Gurfein at 12:35 p.m. Detail work, however, delayed actual filing of suit papers.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said earlier in Washington the Justice Department would seek both a restraining order and an injunction.

Monday, the Times said it "must respectfully decline" a Justice Department request to cease voluntarily publication of the series, commenced Sunday.

Mitchell asked the newspaper in a telegram Monday evening to refrain from further publica-

Swimming Pool Ruling Third Major Setback for Blacks in 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decision allowing the closing of public swimming pools in Jackson, Miss., was the third major setback for Negroes in the court in less than two weeks.

Justice Hugo L. Black, author of the majority opinion in the 5-4 decision, went out of his way Monday to caution from the bench that it does not signal approval of "any subterfuge" aimed at weakening school integration.

Still, this month, the court has declared apportionment plans fashioned by federal judges are outside the reach of the 1965 and 1970 voting rights law, that inner-city blacks do not have a right to their own legislative districts and now that Jackson could close its pools to avoid integrating them.

William M. Kuntsler, the New York lawyer who had argued before the court the pool closings were "a badge of slavery," described the ruling as "unspeakably tragic" and "proof that black slavery is dead in name only."

Earlier this term the Supreme Court unanimously approved mass busing of public school children to accomplish desegration and banned job tests that locked blacks into lesser jobs without proving they were disqualified for advancement.

These rulings, Kunstler said in an interview, were in a "meaningless area."

"To blacks," he said, "being kept out of city pools is telling them they are beings of an inferior order. The Supreme Court has given a message to black people that says 'you are slaves'."

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said "The Supreme Court today made, in my opinion, an illogical and dangerous decision ... "

Tobias Simon, a civil rights lawyer in Miami, said he was "aghast at the decision."

"The court is proceeding to erase many of the gains that we have fought for over 20 years," he said. "It is getting into the same kind of repressive era that we had in the 1870s and it is going to be hard for everybody."

Cong Heavily Shelling Area Below DMZ

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners heavily shelled allied positions below the demilitarized zone Monday night, and U.S. B52 bombers retaliated with another round of heavy blows on enemy forces menacing South Vietnam's northern provinces.

It was the third successive day of saturation air raids in the northern sector.

North Vietnamese gunners fired 200 mortar shells into South Vietnamese marines nine miles east of Khe Sanh. The area had been hit hard by the B52s, and the marines were making a sweep to assess the damage done by the big bombers to North Vietnamese forces infiltrating from Laos and the DMZ.

There was no indication of the bomb damage found by the

Four Sought in Slaying of Seven

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Homicide detectives sought four men and a motive today for the mass slaying of seven young persons in the bloodiest massacre in Detroit crime history.

The victims—three men and four women 18 to 27 years old—were shot to death and another man was wounded critically about 4:30 a.m. Monday in what police believe was a narcotics center on the city's Near Northwest Side.

Four men were seen fleeing the two-story flat shortly after neighbors were awakened by about a dozen shots. Police found cartridges of at least three different calibers at the scene.

Investigators said they did not know whether the four men were involved in the mass killing or if they were fleeing for their lives.

Two women and one man told police they fled from the house moments before the shooting by diving through the glass of a back sunporch and running down an alley.

Inspector James Bannon, head of a 20-man investigating team, said the three reported to police voluntarily shortly after the shootings. He declined to furnish their names or details of their statements.

There was speculation that the slayings were the outgrowth of a gangland struggle over control of the lucrative narcotics trade in the Detroit area. Up to 50 killings in recent months have been linked to an alleged dope war, some investi-

New Haven to Hear Mills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., will speak to the New Haven, Conn., Chamber of Commerce June 25 on the idea of sharing federal revenues with states and cities.

Mills' address, one of a series of speeches on revenue sharing, will be his first appearance in the Northeast in recent years.

Some of the congressman's friends have been touting him as a serious contender for the 1972 presidential nomination.

Production Jump Brings No Reaction

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharpest jump in industrial production figures since settlement of the General Motors' strike has generated little excitement among President Nixon's economic advisers.

Despite a seven-tenths of one per cent increase in the Federal Reserve Board's reading of May industrial output, a spokesman for Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers said the jump was only moderately encouraging.

"It's nice to see it up, but I'm not going to go out and get excited about it," the spokesman said.

The one-month boost does not confirm the start of the fast-paced economic expansion sought by the Nixon administration, he said.

The council maintains the industrial production figures shed more light on how well industry is producing, or output per man-hour of workers, instead of the total produced.

The May rise in the index matched the January increase, when output rose sharply because General Motors resumed production after a strike.

Except for January, the May increase was the sharpest since June 1969, when the economy was booming along. Then it reached 171.5 per cent of the 1957-59 average. The new figure is 4.2 per cent below that.

Even if the President's economic advisers weren't gleeful over the rise, the Treasury Department found some happiness in the index.

"I think it's very encouraging," said Assistant Treasury Secretary Murray Weidenbaum. "It certainly confirms the recovery in the economy is under way."

Governors Plan Meet

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott announced Monday that Democratic governors will meet Saturday in Omaha, Neb., to select an unnamed former Democratic governor to represent them at party policy sessions in Washington.

The meeting will be the first for the governors since they proclaimed an interest in gaining a stronger voice in the party's campaign strategy for the forthcoming national elections.

Fires Raging in Riot-Torn Albuquerque

By MIKE COCHRAN and HOWARD GRAVES
Associated Press Writers

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A rash of fires, many of which city officials said were touched off by fire bombs, burned in widely scattered areas of Albuquerque early today after violence flared anew between authorities and crowds of young people.

Two days of disorders in this desert city of 300,000 left 15 persons wounded by gunfire, more than 250 persons arrested, police equipment destroyed and businesses looted and burned. Fire damage was unofficially estimated at almost $3 million.

The disturbances were touched off Sunday when police attempted to arrest some young people in crowded Roosevelt Park for public drinking.

At the height of the renewed violence Monday afternoon police, state troopers and National Guardsmen routed a cursing, missile-hurling crowd from the park.

Young people massed in the park hurled gasoline bombs and other missiles at the police and guardsmen, who responded with tear gas and a charge that sent most of the crowd in retreat. Police made 100 arrests.

The confrontation came at Chicano Hill in the park. Chicano is the name given to Mexican-Americans.

Five persons, including two guardsmen, were injured during the clash at the park and a disturbance with marching young people earlier Monday on a corner of the University of New Mexico campus.

One young man was shot in the back by police in the campus area, police said. He was reported in serious condition.

"After the combined efforts of all law enforcement agencies, including the New Mexico National Guard, the park has been cleared," Deputy Police Chief Don Daniel said Monday night. "It is quiet."

With darkness, however, came the fires. Guardsmen and police patroled city streets but reported no organized disturbances involving large groups.

Early today fire officials reported eight fires burning and attributed most to firebombs thrown from cars.

"It's much, much worse than Sunday night," Ray Kuhn, city fire chief, told newsmen. He said a number of bomb threats also had been reported.

"We've had 24 fire alarms since 6 p.m.," he said. The only major blaze was reported at an apartment construction site on the outskirts of the city.

Asked if it was a confirmed fire bombing, he replied: "I don't think we're in a position to say, but we are suspicious."

Money May Be Denied in Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a toughened interpretation of President Nixon's open-housing policy, administration officials say communities barring subsidized housing for the poor will be denied federal aid, for such projects as water and sewer construction, planning, and renewal.

In other strengthening steps, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell announced filing Monday of a long-delayed federal suit against the St. Louis suburb of Black Jack, Mo., for allegedly rezoning a tract to exclude a racially integrated, townhouse apartment complex.

And Housing Secretary George Romney said subsidized housing projects planned in suburbs will receive clear funding priority—rather than limited priority as stated by White House officials last week—over developments that fail to break up racial concentrations.

In a joint news conference with Mitchell, Romney announced proposed regulations to insure minority groups equal access to subsidized suburban housing. The U.S. Civil Rights Commission accused the administration last week of condoning lily-white suburban housing and black inner-city dwellings under the major 235 mortgage subsidy program.

In addition, Romney announced an agreement with the General Services Administration giving the Department of Housing and Urban Development greater say, but not a veto, over location of many federal buildings and installations. HUD will determine if the community picked for the federal project has, or intends to build, an adequate supply of low and moderate-income housing available on a nondiscriminatory basis.

The volley of administration initiatives on housing discrimination coincided with opening of three days of hearings by the Civil Rights Commission to examine government open-housing enforcement. Romney will be questioned today and Mitchell on Wednesday.

In probably the most significant reinterpretation of emphasis of the President's message last Friday, Romney pointed to a paragraph not included in the section Nixon entitled "Policies of this Administration."

gators say.

Bannon expressed doubt about the gangland war theory but did not rule out such a possibility. He indicated the rash of slayings may be the result of holdups at known narcotics hangouts, where large sums of cash usually are kept.

"We don't know whether it was a robbery that went awry or whether something else, such as drugs, was involved," he said.

If the killers were seeking money, however, they overlooked $673 found on the seven slaying victims and the wounded man, Robert Gardner, 28. Police said the cash included five $100 bills.

Gardner, who occupied the flat in the predominantly black neighborhood, remained in critical condition late Monday. A heavy police guard was posted outside his room at Henry Ford Hospital. Doctors said he had about a 50-50 chance to survive the two gunshot wounds in his chest.

The murder victims were shot in the head at close range. All three women had their hands tied.

Police were mystified by what they described as the relaxed positions of some victims.

One man was found with an unlighted cigarette in his hand and some dollar bills in his lap. Two others appeared to have been sitting in almost a casual position when shot.

Furniture Workers Complain

MEMPHIS (AP)—The United Furniture Workers of America (AFL-CIO) complained to the National Labor Relations Board Monday about alleged unfair labor practices in connection with a union election held at the Fulbright Wood Products Co. June 8.

Wendel Edwards of Neosho, Mo., an international repretative for the union, issued a statement saying that labor should withhold its support of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., because of the activity at "his plant."

Edwards said support should be withheld "until such time as Sen. Fulbright allows his workers to settle the question of union representation free of all antiunion activity on the part of the company."

Workers at the plant rejected union representation by a 51-42 vote in the June 8 election.

The plant is owned by the Fulbright family.

Edwards said specifics about the alleged unfair labor practices would be discussed later.

Heath Accused of Snubbing

LONDON (AP) — Three members of Queen Elizabeth's household have accused Prime Minister Edward Heath of snubbing diplomats by racing his sailboat instead of attending a royal ceremony in London.

Heath was racing his yacht Morning Cloud last Saturday during the trooping the color ceremony marking the queen's 45th birthday. The prime minister traditionally acts as host to the diplomatic corps at the ceremony.

They indicated Monday they would carry the complaint to the House of Commons. There was no reply from Heath, who had the queen's permission to take part in the race, which he won.

sweeping marines, but field reports said five marines were killed and 15 were wounded in the four-hour mortar attack.

North Vietnamese gunners also fired 15 mortar shells at U.S. troops of the 1st Brigade, 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, who were operating four miles south of the DMZ near Fire Base Charlie 2. The U.S. Command said some Americans were wounded but none was killed.

One wave of the B52s dropped 90 tons of explosives on sites a mile south of the DMZ from which the North Vietnamese were believed pounding Charlie 2 and other allied bases. A dozen B52s in all were in action in the northern sector, also hitting targets and southeast of Khe Sanh.

The South Vietnamese Command said that 3,000 to 4,000 South Vietnamese marines are continuing search operations east of Khe Sanh "to prevent the enemy from infiltrating from the DMZ and from Laos."

Elsewhere, North Vietnamese forces ambushed U.S. air cavalrymen 42 miles northeast of Saigon and shelled the U.S. Army headquarters post at Long Binh, 12 miles northeast of Saigon, for the first time since Feb. 5. The shelling caused no casualties.

TIMES WILL

tion of the documents on the ground that it will cause "irreparable injury to the defense interests of the United States."

The telegram arrived about an hour after Robert C. Mardian, assistant attorney general in charge of the internal security division, conveyed the department request to Harding F. Bancroft, executive vice president of the Times.

Mardian said that if the Times did not accede "the government would seek to enforce all applicable statutes, including seeking an injunction to stop further publication," a Justice Department spokesman said.

The secret documents are part of a three-year-old, 40-volume study of how the United States became involved in the Indochina war. The third installment of the series appeared in today's editions of the Times.

Replying to Mitchell, the Times said in a statement that it "must respectfully decline the request of the attorney general, believing that it is in the interest of the people of this country to be informed of the material contained in this series of articles."

Regarding a possible injunction, the statement said, "We believe that is properly a matter for the courts to decide. The Times will oppose any request for an injunction for the same reason that led us to publish the articles in the first place.

"We will of course abide by the final decision of the court."

Earlier Monday Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told a Senate committee that the publication of the documents "violates the security regulations of the United States."

The telegram from Mitchell, addressed to Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of the Times, said:

"I have been advised by the secretary of defense that the material published in the New York Times on June 13, 14, 1971, captioned 'Key Texts from Pentagon's Vietnam Sutyd' contains information relating to the national defense of the United States and bears a top secret classification.

"As such, publication of this information is directly prohibited by the provisions of the Espionage Law, Title 18, United States Code, Section 793," the telegram said and concluded with a request that the Times return the documents.

Lions Club Meets

JACK TURNER

JUDGE FINIS ODOM

During the Lion's Monday luncheon at the Town and Country the group heard two speakers. The first being a report from Jack Turner, the club sponsored delegate to Boy's State. Jack told of the activities at Boy's State, the training value to young men and urged the club to continue to send other young men in years to come. While there Jack was elected to the House of Representatives.

Program Chairman Don Freel then presented Hempstead County Judge Finis Odom who brought a very comprehensive report on road work, county buildings and property, law enforcement and the Juvenile Court.

Since road work is the largest item in the county budget this department took more time to cover.

Since January 1, 1967 the county has acquired four new motor graders costing $32,000.00 each and two rebuilt units. A new backhoe costing $11,500.00 and a $2,000.00 trailer on which to haul it. Another particularly useful machine being considered for purchase is a bushhog with extendable arms that can reach out and clear the right of way without the machine having to leave the road bed. The road department is using its second fleet of new gravel trucks plus a large unit for hauling heavy equipment. The County now owns a new Catepillar Loader costing $35,000.00 and a new lowboy trailer.

Four pickups are used to transport hand tools, men, and fuel to equipment used over the county. Judge Odom spoke well of Bill Fincher who oversees and maintains the roads and equipment.

In the past four years over 153,000 yards of gravel have been put on 1800 to 2,000 miles of county roads. Thirty miles of roads have been sealed with oil and pea gravel. Seven miles of new road has been built and blacktopped. In 1968 fifteen miles of road was lost to flooding plus 21 bridges and have since been rebuilt. During this four years 679 bridges have been replaced. Heavier loads and increased traffic has kept the road crew very busy said the judge. The county workers have received pay increases.

The jail and courthouse have been painted. The courtroom ceiling lowered, a new sound system installed in the courtroom. A new boiler and new plumbing for the courthouse was installed at a cost of $14,000.00.

Judge Odom had high praise for the sixty one member Rescue Unit which is manned by volunteers. He said that this group was rated number one in the state.

Hempstead County and the City of Hope now jointly spend $800.00 per month to help provide ambulance service for the area.

Judge Odom said that Larry Patterson, Attorney, was serving as the Juvenile Court Referee hearing cases on youths up to sixteen years of age, older offenders heard by the judge and all cases reviewed by him.

The Judge said that on the whole, the young people gave very little trouble and that he was pleased with their behavior.

In conclusion the speaker said that the county equipment was paid for, the county was in good shape financially and closed with an invitation for questions from those present.

Dr. William Capps, D.D.S. associated with Dr. Lester Sitzes, was inducted into the Lion's Club as a new member by his sponsor Lion Don Freel.

Showers May Bring State Some Relief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Widespread thundershowers moved across Arkansas today, bringing some relief from the heat prevalent across most of the state Monday.

This was the case Monday in the northwest counties, where small rain amounts fell and the afternoon temperatures were held down to the 80s. Fort Smith had an 81 for a high in sharp contrast to the 92 for the previous day. It was similarly cool at Fayetteville and Harrison.

The cloudiness today was expected to lower temperatures 5 to 10 degrees over those of Monday, and with the clearing expected tonight, low temperatures by sunrise Wednesday will be in the mid and upper 60s.

However, dewpoints and humidities will change little with this small weather pattern drifting through the state, so that, with the sun returning on Wednesday, the heat will again be noticeable.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 63, Harrison 67, Jonesboro 71, Pine Bluff 73, Texarkana 76, El Dorado 73, Memphis 73, Little Rock 70, and Fort Smith 67.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. include .09 inches at Fayetteville, .01 at Harrison, .04 at Pine Bluff, .20 at Little Rock, and .49 at Fort Smith.

Tourism Association Formed

The promotion of tourism was the main goal of a meeting of Southwest Arkansas counties Thursday night.

A tentative associational name was adopted at the regional meeting in Hope. The name is SWAHA, or Southwest Arkansas Hospitality Association; a name originally given to an association of cities and towns interested in Lake Narrows in the early 1950's.

Counties in the organization include Hempstead, Howard, Sevier, Nevada, Little River, Miller and Lafayette, with invitations to Pike, Polk, Montgomery, Clark, Ouachita and Columbia counties to join.

A slogan for the developing tourist and recreational area will be adopted through a contest, with a prize of possibly $100 or a vacation package offered to the person submitting the slogan best fitting the area's tourist attractions.

The regional development came about through a fund program approved by the legislature, which will provide $20,000 to be matched by the region, for promoting the tourist industry. A color brochure is planned for promotion.

A slogan committee was appointed, including B.N. Holt of Hope, W.C. Blewster of Magnolia and Ronny Blakely of Nashville.

J.D. Bell of Ashdown served as chairman of the meeting.

A nominating committee includes Ronny Blakely of Nashville, Elbert Ray of Pike County, L. Pounds of Prescott, J.D. Garrett of Lewisville and Stern Feinberg, Jr., of Texarkana.

Area funds for matching state funds will be gained through the sale of memberships. The membership drive will be aimed mostly at the firms serving tourists, such as hotels, motels, resorts, boat dock operations, and others.

A constitution was discussed and given to Max Love of the State Publicity and Parks for approval.

GEORGE ROBISON

Rotarian George Robison discussed everyday problems at the Hope Rotary Club meeting on Friday, June 11 in the Town and Country. Quoting from several publications, he showed "where our money goes," and he gave the American housewife a verbal pat on the back for not being fooled repeatedly by powerful advertising.

As for the Establishment versus the Younger Generation and their views on economy, he said, "The success of capitalism proves it is the greatest system devised by man."

Rotary President C.R. "Dick" Moore reported filling a request for assistance to Nicaragua during a polio epidemic. He welcomed a visiting Rotarian, Alex Geddie of Camden, and a guest, Sammy Strong.

MRS. JESSIE L. WILBANKS

Miss Patricia Ann Allen became the bride of Jessie Lynn Wilbanks at 4:00 p.m. Sunday, June 13 in the Bodcaw No. 1 Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Allen of Route 1, Emmet and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.J. Lloyd Wilbanks of Route 3, Benton.

The Reverend D.D. Fairchild, pastor of the Bodcaw No. 1 Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Cascades of southern smilax and lighted tapers extended the length of the altar space and arrangements of gladiolus and stocks were placed at either side of the altar for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white frosted peau-de-soie. The bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and an empire waist. The short sleeves were accented with Alencon lace outlined in seed pearls which extended down the front of the bodice. The A-skirt swept into a semi-chapel train which was outlined in scalloped Alencon lace. Her four-tiered veil of illusion fell to elbow length from a cluster of peau roses and orange blossoms enhanced with pearls. Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — So you are a woman and you are hooked on a couple of soap operas that fit into your daytime schedule when you are stuck in the house anyway. Chances are, you are young—under 50 anyway. that is, unless you live in the South where age is not a factor in soap opera addiction.

If your feminine preference is a daytime game show, you are likely to be older—and have a larger income than the average soap fan.

Enjoy the late night talk shows? If you are a typical Carson, Cavett or—to a lesser degree—Griffin fan, you are under 50, almost certainly over 18 and probably a woman. Johnny Carson, for instance, has 22 women staying awake for every 18 men. In all probability, you live in or near a big city: rural folk tend to turn in early.

These figures on who is tuned to what come from televisions sophisticated rating services plus the statistical wizards employed by each network and advertising agency.

It is a logical preoccupation. Bill Rubens, NBC vice president in charge of audience measurement, explained that "the advertiser has to select, within the television schedules, the programs that he thinks will move his goods best."

Obviously, then, no manufacturer of disposable diapers is likely to insert his commercial in the middle of a program known to attract the very young or older audiences, such as "Family Affair." No dispenser of denture cleansers would be likely to invest in "Nanny and the Professor."

After years of research, television knows that we viewers are pretty much what we watch. There are some obvious deductions. More men than women watch sports—2½ times more men than women watch football. Golf is most devoutly observed by men with higher incomes. Saturday morning audiences are mostly composed of kids.

Viewing habits are charted like military maneuvers. It is devoutly believed, for instance, that television must be doing something right, despite its critics, since the audience is increasing faster than the birthrate and each year the number of hours the average set is on increases. It passed 6½ hours daily during the peak viewing season this year—October through April.

From the top of the season in midwinter to the depths in midsummer is a long drop—more than an hour a set, according to the averages. The dip certainly helps explain the remarkable lack of enthusiasm by broadcasters for bold experimentation in programming during the warm months.

Player Prime Contendor in U.S. Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — South African Gary Player takes a cautious approach to the United States Open Golf championship.

"You don't want to be too cocky going into something like this," the muscular little rancher from Johannesburg said Monday before his first practice round over the historic Marion Golf Club course.

"I am playing very well right now," said 34-year-old physical fitness addict added, then couldn't surpress a smile that crept across his handsome face:

"Just look at the record, at the money winnings, at the stroke average. That tells the story."

And it's a story that makes the diminutive superstar with the powerful, sloping shoulders one of the prime candidates for the title in the most prestigious of all the world's golf tournaments, a 72-hole test that begins Thursday.

Player, one of only four men ever to sweep all four of the world's major professional titles, is enjoying one of his best years on the American circuit.

He scored consecutive victories in the Jacksonville and National Airlines Opens, was second in the Tournament of Champions, missed a tie for first in the Atlanta Classic by a single stroke, was fourth in the PGA national championship, sixth in the Masters and lost in a playoff last weekend for the Kemper Open title.

His winnings of more than $118,000 is the second best he's had in 15 years on the tour and has him closing in on fourth place on the all-time list. His stroke average is a remarkable 70.6.

Player, the 1965 Open champion, played sparingly in the next three years, then made a longer tour the last couple of years, each time winning more than $100,000.

He's played only 11 tournaments in the U.S. this season, also hitting circuits in Australia and South Africa and spending as much time as possible with his family on the horse ranch outside Johannesburg.

Beige Turf Said Better Than Green

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Don't wager that pro football's Super Bowl won't someday be played on a field of fleshy beige rather than today's grassy green.

Budget-priced thoroughbreds are pounding around an artificial track during Florida's sizzling summer in an experiment that could one day cool the soles of Joe Namath and Deacon Jones.

"Maybe it's the light color," said Elmer Vickers, general manager at the new Calder Race Course, "but heat hasn't been a factor."

He's right. Not a single horse has complained, although some owners are irked about apparent sore shoulders among their animals.

Calder is a $20 million racing plant that stacks customers high rather than wide and keeps even losers cool. The entire 11-story grandstand is air conditioned and not a seat is farther than 110 feet from the finish line.

Air-cooled fans watch from behind a 110-foot wall of glass as the horses stomp around what 3M company calls its "third generation artificial track."

Complainers have asked for a layer of sand to help cushion the Saf-T-Turf, already a softer version of the bogus track used at several other race emporiums around the country.

Heavy rains the last week have allowed the horses to pass the wet test with few problems of slipping.

Can Jacklin Win His 2nd U.S. Open?

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ARDMORE, Pa., (AP) — Nobody has been able to win consecutive U.S. Open Golf championships since Ben Hogan did it in 1950 and 1951. Can England's Tony Jacklin break through the jinx that seems to be handing over the defending champion?

"I'm still hungry and there is nothing else I want to do but play golf," said Jacklin before a practice round Monday over the 6,544 yard Merion Golf Club course, scene of this week's 71st annual U.S. Open, starting Thursday.

Jacklin isn't concerned with history or jinxes, or even courses. "If I'm playing well I have a good chance," he said. "That's my problem, playing well." He said he wasn't concerned that he had never seen, let alone played Merion. "It doesn't matter. I've won on all sorts of courses."

Jacklin's main concern is that he has been in a slump. He's been in slumps before, but he says his latest one has lasted longer than any of the others.

Jacklin, who won at Hazletine last year by seven strokes with a 281, feels his game has been distracted because of the personal appearances resulting from his Open triumph.

"It's been difficult to keep my mind on my game," he said. His highest finish this year has been a tie for seventh in the Greensboro Open.

Jacklin also has been worried by a threat upon his life, and another to bomb his wife's home in Belfast. He said that he had received a cable from a newspaper that it had an anonymous call making the threats against Jacklin if he played in the Gallagher Ulster Tournament.

Jacklin is taking no chances. He has withdrawn from the Ulster Tournament scheduled for later this month. He explained that if he played it would attract a lot of attention and that he would need a police guard and there would be letters. "and besides they might do it," he added.

Jacklin is extremely impressed with Merion's 36-34—70 course. He believes a good driving game is necessary to stay out of trouble. He describes the greens as fantastic, noting that to win he will have to putt very well.

Most of the players were out on the course Monday despite periods of heavy rain. Billy Casper, who won the Open in 1959 and again in 1966, said of Merion, "Many modern day golf architects could take a good lesson from this course."

$11,000 Behind Jack Nicklaus

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Trevino, last year's leading money winner in pro golf, now is only $11,000 behind Jack Nicklaus, currently No. 1 on the 1971 list.

Nicklaus has won $146,213 while Trevino has $135,110, picking up $11,600 for his second place tie in last week's Kemper Open in which Nicklaus did not compete.

Third on the latest money winning list announced Monday by PGA Tournament Players Division is Gary Player with $117,912. Arnold Palmer is fourth at $109,839 and Miller Barber fifth at $101,943.

Trevino also gained on Nicklaus in the Exemption Point Standings. Nicklaus leads with 144,907.5 points to Trevino's 132,520.8. Player is third with 116,506.3.

Philadelphia 9-4 Over S. Francisco

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Monday being Flag Day, the San Francisco Giants continued to waver.

The beleaguered Giants, still unable to shake the June bugs, lost for the 10th time in 13 games this month, bowing to Philadelphia 9-4. Combined with Los Angeles' 3-2 victory over the New York Mets, it pared the Giants' lead in the National League West to five games. It stood at 10½ on June 1.

Elsewhere, Houston nipped Pittsburgh 5-4, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 7-2, the Chicago Cubs edged Atlanta 3-2 and San Diego shaded Montreal 2-1.

American League scores: Detroit 4, Chicago White Sox 3 in 10 innings; Boston 4, California 3 in 15; Kansas City 4, New York Yankees 1 and Minnesota 3, Cleveland 1. Baltimore and Milwaukee were rained out, Oakland and Washington were not scheduled.

The day started out badly for the Giants with the announcement that slugging Willie McCovey will have his ailing knees re-examined when the team returns home Thursday and may need an operation. It didn't take long for things to get worse.

Utilityman Frank Johnson was struck in the face by a ball during infield practice and was unconscious for at least 10 minutes. X-rays were negative but Johnson was said to be suffering from "ataxia to the right," which means he veers to the right when he walks.

The Phillies then gave Gaylord Perry a severe case of ataxia to the showers. Willie Montanez started it with a first inning homer and the Phils exploded for six runs in the second, their biggest outburst of the season.

Roger Freed singled in the tie-breaking run, pitcher Rick Wise hammered a three-run homer and Tim McCarver delivered a two-run shot. Oscar Gamble connected in the fifth.

The Dodgers used a solo homer by Willie Davis in the first inning and Bobby Valentine's two-run double in the third to beat the Mets and ace Tom Seaver. Jim Brewer relieved starter Don Sutton after the Mets scored both their runs in the seventh and snuffed out the rally.

It was the Dodgers' fourth consecutive victory and 13th in their last 17 games.

"Momentum," said Sutton. "We've got the momentum now."

"We think about winning this thing," said Richie Allen, who walked and then beat close plays at second and third to ignite the Dodgers' two-run third.

Houston climbed to within eight games of the Giants in the West and prevented Pittsburgh from increasing its 2½-game bulge over the Mets in the East when Joe Morgan walked with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning, forcing in the winning run.

The Pirates had tied the score in the top of the ninth on Dave Cash's two-run single. The Astros had taken the lead in the sixth on Cesar Cedeno's triple, Bob Watson's sacrifice fly and Denis Menke's first home run of the season.

Lee May drove in four runs with a two-run homer and double as the Reds stretched St. Louis' losing streak to seven games. Hal McRae also stroked a two-run double for the winners.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer off Phil Niekro with two out in the eighth inning lifted the Cubs past the Braves. Phil Regan, getting his first start since August 1967, pitched eight innings and picked up the win.

Clarence Gaston doubled home both San Diego runs with two out in the ninth inning to give the Padres their triumph over the Expos. Angel Bravo walked with one out, Larry Stahl singled and Dave Campbell hit into a force play before Gaston connected up the alley in right-center, spoiling Carl Morton's shutout bid.

San Diego starter Clay Kirby allowed three hits and struck out nine in eight innings.

White Sox Defeated 4-3 by Detroit

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers have a new Taylor with an old habit.

Tony Taylor, who helped the Philadelphia Phillies win many games in 11 years with the National League club, now is sewing up victories with his new team at Detroit.

Taylor, traded last week, made an impressive debut Sunday with three hits in a winning effort and Monday night, banged two more — including the game-winner — as the Tigers shaded the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 10 innings.

"I'm very happy to have this kind of start in Detroit," said Taylor.

Taylor almost delivered the winning hit two innings earlier when he rifled a grass-cutter to the right side with men on first and second. But second baseman Rich McKinney made a diving stop for the final out.

The Minnesota Twins turned back the Cleveland Indians 3-1; the Kansas City Royals cut down the New York Yankees 4-1 and the Boston Red Sox tripped the California Angels 5-4 in 15 innings in the American League's other games Monday night. Milwaukee at Baltimore was postponed because of rain.

In the National League, it was Chicago Cubs 3, Atlanta Braves 2; Philadelphia Phillies 9, San Francisco Giants 4; Los Angeles Dodgers 3, New York Mets 2; San Diego Padres 2, Montreal Expos 1; Houston Astros 5, Pittsburgh Pirates 4 and Cincinnati Reds 7, St. Louis Cardinals 2.

Taylor, admittedly jolted by the recent rade, is finding a home in Detroit.

"It was a shock after being traded after 11 years in Philadelphia," said Taylor, "but I've been happy in the little time I've been here."

Taylor has temporarily moved in with teammates Aurelio Rodriguez and Cesar Gutierrez and is getting briefed from others on how to handle certain American League pitchers.

He sliced a 1-0 pitch just inside the right field foul line for a dramatic two-out double, chasing home Al Kaline with the winning run. It was a typical, opposite-field shot for the punch-hitting second baseman.

Dick McAullife's run-scoring single in the sixth inning pulled Detroit into a 3-3 tie, setting the stage for the Taylor-made victory.

Jim Perry fired a six-hitter and fanned 11 batters and Tony Oliva ripped a three-run homer in the first inning to pace the Minnesota success.

"I'm not a strikeout artist," Perry insisted, "sometimes you strike out 10 a game and the next time you don't get any. My fastball — I had good control of it early in the game and I hit some pretty good spots. This is my best game for all nine innings this year."

Tony Oliva, who also had a single to go along with his 14th homer, said: "I hit the single harder than the home run, but I hit the home run pretty hard, too."

Streaking Kansas City erupted for five singles and four runs before anyone was out in the sixth and went on to bounce New York for its sixth straight victory and 12th in 13 games.

Paul Schaal and Amos Otis singled before Chuck Harrison's single scored Schaal with the tying run. Lou Piniella beat out a bunt, loading the bases, Otis scored on a wild pitch with Harrison charging to third and Piniella to second. Bob Oliver then produced the final runs of the outburst with a single.

The victory left the Royals only 4½ games behind Oakland in the American League West.

Doug Griffin's single in the last of the 15th inning sent home pinch-runner Luis Aparicio with the winning run for Boston.

Rico Petrocelli singled with one out to open the rally and took second on a wild pitch.

Says Instant Replay in Parks Soon

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The time isn't far away, say a couple of men who should know, that sports parks will be able to offer paying cutsomers the illusion of being back home in front of the television set—without having to leave their seats.

The instant replay, child of the electronic age, delight of color commentators and bane of referees, is coming to the ball park.

Soon fans will be able to see, again and again from every angle, the play they have just seen in front of them.

Hal Uplinger, a well established producer of TV sports, says, "In just a few years the in-person fan will have that opportunity. It's coming."

Uplinger produces, among other events, the live telecasts of thoroughbred racing at Hollywood Park each Saturday.

Hearing on Dog Racing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Racing Commission took under advisement Monday whether to revoke the dog racing franchise of Southland Racing Corp. of West Memphis.

The commission held a day-long hearing on whether to revoke the franchise. Chairman J. W. Benafield of England gave attorneys until June 25 to file written briefs. He said he would call another meeting after the briefs were filed.

The commission amended its original April 16 "show cause" order to include the question of whether conflicting testimony had been given by Jeremy M. Jacobs of Buffalo, N.Y., president of Emprise Corp. of Buffalo.

Emprise is the principal stockholder in Southland, which operates the greyhound race track at West Memphis. Southland has been granted racing dates for this year and has a meeting under way.

John Gill of Little Rock, attorney for the commission, drafted the amendment, which concerned testimony by Jacobs regarding business relationships between Emprise and Irwin S. Wiedrick, described in the amendment as a convicted felon.

The commission's original order set out the alleged failure of Southland to supply, in an application for racing dates, certain business and financial data required under commission rules.

C. B. Nance Jr. of West Memphis, attorney for Southland, argued in the hearing that the information either was already on file in commission records or was data unavailable to Southland.

Emprise, in line with the commission's order, submitted copies of court actions in which it currently is involved or in which it was involved when the commission's order was issued.

One of the items was a suit filed in January of this year by Emprise against Wiedrick in connection with a guarantee Wiedrick allegedly gave on a loan Emprise made to the Georgetown track in Delaware.

The lawsuit, filed in Florida, sought $500,000 from Wiedrick, Gill said.

The commission's lawyer, citing a transcript, said that Jacobs testified on March 24, 1970, before the Arkansas Racing Commission that he had no business relationship pending then with Wiedrick.

The lawsuit filed by Emprise, since settled out of court, shows that a business relationship did exist between Emprise and Wiedrick when Jacobs testified to the contrary in 1970, Gill said.

Jacobs said he did not consider that arrangement a business relationship. "I don't think it's really inconsistent," he said of his testimony.

He testified that he had no direct involvement in the lawsuit, except to permit an attorney to purse the action that had been recommended to him by that lawyer.

Wiedrick's nickname is "Big Sam," Jacobs said, and a single felony conviction in the 1920s, coupled with the nickname, has led some to create an "illusion" that Wiedrick is an unsavory character.

Jacobs also testified about the formation of Tucson Turf Club in Tucson, Arizona., by Jacob Isaacson and others. Jacobs said he loaned money to Isaacson, but the club held its last race meeting in the spring of 1968 and was "disasterously financially."

Subsequently, worthless stock in the club, which Isaacson had put up as collaterol, was transferred to Emprise and the net result was that Emprise lost between $250,000 and $280,000 through the transaction, Jacobs said.

Almost a dozen persons appeared from several states to testify that Emprise and the Jacobs family had a good reputation in several fields of sport. Among the character witnesses was Bob Cousy, coach of the Cincinnati Royals. Cousy also read an affidavit from Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association, who said the personal conduct of the Jacobs family had been beyond reproach.

Accused of Pointing Gun at Teammate

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angels outfielder Alex Johnson was quoted Monday by the team's general manager, Dick Walsh, as saying teammate Chico Ruiz aimed a handgun at him in the clubhouse Sunday.

Walsh added that Ruiz called the account "preposterous."

Walsh called a news conference Monday after Bud Tucker of the San Gabriel Valley Tribune reported the alleged incident in his sports column. The writer said he learned of the incident from a reliable source.

Walsh said he spoke with both players before Monday night's game with the Boston Red Sox. Both were in uniform for the game, but neither was in the starting lineup. During the game, Johnson sat on the Angels' bench and Ruiz, a utility infielder, sat in the bullpen.

Johnson, Walsh said, told him that during the ninth inning of Sunday's game with Washington, after both he and Ruiz had appeared as pinch hitters, "Ruiz produced a handgun and aimed it in his direction while both were sitting in front of their respective lockers.

"Johnson said no verbal threat was made," Walsh said. "He also said Ruiz then put the weapon in the back pocket of his uniform and went back to the dugout."

The general manager quoted Ruiz as telling him, "It did not take place. If you think it happened, produce a witness."

Johnson had told him there was no witness, Walsh said. The outfielder told him he had notified a park security guard, who has not been questioned, Walsh said.

"There was no search and no weapon discovered," Walsh told reporters. He said police had not been notified.

The players were not available for comment.

Ruiz and Johnson, teammates at Cincinnati before coming to the Angels, almost came to blows during an argument last year.

Broyles Has Lead Over Royal

BELLA VISTA, Ark. (AP)— Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles held a one-stroke lead Monday over Texas' Darrell Royall in the annual Coaches Invitational Golf Tournament here.

Broyles finished the first day with a four-under-par 76 and Royal turned in a 77. Coach Chuck Fairbanks of the University of Oklahoma had a 78.

Broyles had a three-over-par 39 on the first nine and was one over at 37 on the second nine. Royal had nines of 40-37. Fairbanks at end two rounds had 39.

Behind the leaders were Doug Dickey of Florida, 81; Ben Martin of Air Force, 81; Jim Pittman of TCU, 85; Bobby Dobb of Texas at El Paso, 87; John Majors of Iowa State, 88; Al Onofrio of Missouri, 88, and Bob Weber of Arizona, 89.

Harry King of The Associated Press bureau in Little Rock led the press division with a four-over-par 76. King, who is defending champion in his division, fired a one-under-par 35 on the first nine, but slipped to a 41 on the second nine.

Larry Guest of the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger had an 81, followed by Tom McEwen of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and Orville Henry of the Arkansas Gazette, each with 84s.

Wimbledon to Begin June 21

BECKENHAM, England (AP) — Erik Van Dillen, 20-year-old student at the University of Southern California, said today:

"This will be my third Wimbledon tennis championship and I'm confident I'll do better than I have the last two times."

Van Dillen, of San Mateo, Calif., is competing in the London Grass Courts Tennis championship at London's Queen's Club this week.

That's the final warmup before the stars tackle the Wimbledon champhionships starting June 21 and ending July 3.

Van Dillen, unused to playing on grass—and that's what Wimbledon is all about—tried to find his feet on the rain-soaked grass of Bechenham in the Kent Championships last week.

Britain's Davis Cupper, Peter Curtis defeated Van Dillen in the singles at Bechenham 7-5, 7-5.

Then the young American partnered Stan Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., in the doubles.

They got to the semifinals and went out to Syd Ball and Jeff Masters of Australia, 3-6, 9-7, 6-4.

Ball and Masters went on to win the doubles crown.

Star Diver May Go to Red China

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Carolyn Bennett, a 17-year-old national AAU diving champion said Monday she was delighted by the prospect of making a goodwill trip to Communist China, but added, "I'm not sure if I'm going."

Miss Bennett explained that the dates for the proposed journey, July 20 to Aug. 1, conflict with pre-qualifying trials scheduled July 31 and Aug. 1 for the senior national Olympic diving hopefuls.

One solution to the scheduling problems has been put forward by Carolyn's coach, Mrs. Betty Perkins. She and Hobie Billingsley, coach of the 1972 U.S. Olympic women's swimming team, plan to ask fellow members of the Women's Diving Rules Committee to exempt Carolyn from appearing at the pre-qualifiers in North Carolina.

Mrs. Perkins indicated the committee's decision would be known in about a week.

Disclosure of the proposed China trip came from Mrs. Perkins Monday. She said the invitation was contained in a letter written by Ever Wilson of Baltimore, identified as acting chairman of the World Youth Camp Organizing Committee.

Cubs Pitcher Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Cubs pitcher Ferguson Jenkins was hospitalized late Monday night suffering from "fever, headache and general malaise," a Cub spokesman said.

Dr. Jacob Suker, team physician, said Jenkins seemed to be suffering from a virus infection. He said symptoms appeared rather suddenly while Jenkins was at his home.

Jenkins was placed in isolation at Wesley Memorial Hospital pending further tests, the spokesman said.

Another Cub pitcher, Milt Pappas, had been sidelined the past two weeks with a virus infection.

Not Worried Over Court Decision

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Muhammad Ali, who begins preparing Tuesday for his heavyweight fight with Jimmy Ellis, says an imminent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on his 1967 conviction for draft evasion, will not effect his training.

"I don't think about it," the former heavyweight champ said in an interview Monday. "Whatever happens is the will of the Lord. He said if the court rules against him, "I go to jail, that's all.

Ali, who plans to train in Chicago, said he wasn't ready yet for his bout with Ellis in Houston's Astrodome, "But I will be July 26.

The Supreme Court has agreed to rule on a lower court sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for draft evasion. It is expected to rule before it adjourns for the summer in two weeks.

Four years ago, June 20, 1967, Ali refused to step forward to join other draftees in entering the Army. Since then, Ali, has spent "a couple of hundred thousand dollars" on appeals.

Says He Won't Sell Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robert Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, has denied published reports that he will sell his National League Baseball club to a group of buyers headed by baseball entrepreneur Bill Veeck.

A story in Monday's Philadelphia Daily News said Veeck's group was prepared to offer a "blank check" for the team.

"The ball club is not for sale no matter how much money is involved," Carpenter said.

Phillies vice president Bill Giles said he had heard Veeck, former owner of the Chicago White Sox in the American League, was among the top names in the reported group of prospective buyers. Giles accused Veeck of trying "to get his name in the papers."

Tight Race for All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — A tight race shapes up for the catching berth on the American League All-Star team—held for the past five years by Detroit's Bill Freehan—after two weeks of balloting.

Figures released by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn Monday showed Freehan with a slim 610-vote lead over Ray Fosse of Cleveland.

There were no lead changes in the second-week returns, which showed Boston outfielder Carl Yastrzemski topping the ballot with 156,279 of the 275,000 votes cast.

The other front-runners are Boog Powell of Baltimore, first base; Rod Carew of Minnesota, second base; Luis Aparicio of Boston, shortstop; Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, third base, and Tony Oliva, Minnesota, and Frank Robinson, Baltimore, outfield.

The planet Jupiter is noted for its multicolored belts.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

In JACOBY MODERN we do open four-card major suits when we have no sensible minor-suit call or when our hand is unsuitable for no-trump. With most of these hands we stop at two if partner raises us to that level.

With today's hand we probably would jump right to four after the single raise. We have 19 high-card points—too many for a one no-trump opening.

It is well that we steered clear of no-trump. The best a no-trump declarer can do is to bring in eight tricks. A four-heart declarer will make game if he makes sure of ruffing at least one spade in dummy.

There are all sorts of ways for East and West to defend. Against all of them South will bring home the bacon if he refuses to play trumps until after he is able to ruff at least one spade in dummy.

Some lines of defense make things easy for South. Here is one that is very tough. East overtakes the first spade and leads a trump. South must win and lead a second spade. West takes that and leads another trump. South wins this in dummy and must take an immediate club finesse. Then he ruffs a spade, comes back to his hand with a diamond, plays out his last high trump and runs diamonds. He discards his last spade as West ruffs the last diamond.

A—Pass. If you don't think East knows what he is doing—double.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of passing over your no-trump, West has bid two spades. Your partner has gone to three hearts and East has jumped to four spades. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Somehow, there's nothing very romantic about singing

"By the light of the silv'ry satellite."

If someone offers to sell you the secret of success, you'll have every right to be suspicious

B&PW Installation Ceremonies

"The Cultivation of Our Opportunities" was the theme of a clever installation ceremony which Dolores McBride conducted at the Hope B & PW Club meeting Thursday night, June 10 at the Diamond. Into a large container of soil, golden seeds were planted by each officer installed with the aim of making the club develop its greatest potential.

Using properly labeled shovels for "planting" were president, Dee McMurrough; first vice-president, Charlene Wiggins; second vice-president, Donna Smith; recording secretary, Norma Jean Delaney (Opal Hervey substituted in the absence of the new officer); parliamentarian, Mary Andrews.

Magnolia blossoms and yellow candles decorated the table where Mary Andrews presided over her last meeting. She expressed appreciation to all for the co-operation shown during her tenure of office and pledged her own assistance to the new president as she handed over the gavel. A past-president's pin and a gift were presented to the retiring president by Margie Vickers on behalf of the club.

An informal report on the state convention in Hot Springs was made by the delegates, Mary Andrews, Dee McMurrough, Opal Hervey, Opal Daniel, Velora Bright and Mary Anita Laseter.

Dinner was served to 23 including one new members, Mrs. Nina Anthony, and one guest, Mrs. Verna Freeman of Atlanta, Ga.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THREE IN A BEDROOM

Dear Helen:

I knew my guy was a motorcycle nut, but I didn't think I'd have to share our bedroom with this third member of our marriage — I mean the two-wheeled monster.

We have a studio apartment, no garage. If you leave a good 'cycle on the street, it gets stolen, no matter how it's chained. So how do you decorate around a thing like that? How do you avoid falling over it? I swear to Buddha, it reaches our and grabs me, especially when I get up at night.

After falling on my face for the third time, I told my husband either his bike goes or I go. It was our first big fight, and I didn't really mean it, but don't I have a right to complain? — THREE'S A CROWD

Dear T.A.C.:

Complain about the size of the apartment, but not the motorcycle, which came with the package, remember?

If you can't find a bigger place with a locked shed or basement storage, then maybe a neighbor will rent out part of his garage for the monster.

Meanwhile, use it for an extra chair and be glad No. 3 in this marriage is a two-wheeled zinger, rather than a two-legged swinger. — H.

Dear Helen:

I'm 17 and he's 20. We have a three months old baby and we're very much in love. The only problem is: My mother won't sign for me to get married.

He has a good job. I know we could make it, but Mom says I'm too immature and she wants the baby and me to stay at home. Actually, she hates Bill's mother who is real nice, but of a different religion, and she figures if she can keep us pretty much apart for six more months, I'll "get over him" and marry the boy she has picked out for me.

If we ran away and got married in another state ((that allows it) could she keep us from having our baby? We wanted to marry when I was 16, and we've been wanting to ever since. — IMOGENE FROM SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Dear Imogene:

Why not consult the marriage counselor at your County Court House?(The service is free.) Perhaps he can persuade your mother that her grandchild shouldn't wait six months to have a legal father. — H.

Dear Helen:

Yesterday my girl friend and I went shopping. We had money, so I don't know why we did it, but we started lifting things. It got easier and easier to take the stuff, except as we walked out of one shop, we were caught.

We finally admitted the truth and, because we were minors, our parents had to come and sign for us. We had to go back to each store and return the things. Luckily no one pressed charges but, Helen, I never felt so terrible in my life.

To make it even worse, my folks are being great about it, though it made them both sick. Probably my friend's parents won't let me see her again.

But still, I'm glad we got caught, because maybe we might have done it again if we had gotten away with stealing.

I'll never get over how crummy I felt and still feel every time I go into a store and think people are watching me because they know I'm a thief.

Maybe if you print this, it might persuade a few other kids not to try something stupid just for kicks. — E.

Dear E.:

I hope so! — H.

No Sign of Plane Missing in Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — A search continued over the Pacific Ocean today for an Air Force jet which disappeared between American Samoa and Hawaii while on a classified mission.

The only trace of the four-engine C135 and its 24 passengers and crewmen was some unidentifiable debris and a crash position indicator—an emergency radio beacon—found 200 miles north of Palmyra Island Sunday evening after the aircraft vanished.

A spokesman at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio said the plane was based there.

The plane was en route to Hickam Air Force Base on a 2,227-mile flight from Pago Pago.

Tech School Funds Voted for McGehee

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Education voted Monday to spend $200,000 in state funds for the construction of a vocational-technical school at McGehee.

The board unanimously approved the appropriation for the school. Gov. Dale Bumpers had promised McGehee residents that a vo-tech school would be built there and the board had previously given it high priority.

The McGehee school will be the 14th such institution in the state.

A proposal to build a vo-tech school in Pulaski County was tabled Monday. The board discussed the proposal and was on the verge of killing the plan when board member Jack E. Meadows of Crossett suggested that a decision on the measure be post poned.

The proposal to build the school in Pulaski County had no vocal supporters on the board.

SS Benefits Could Run $1300 Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pending Social Security bill eventually will increase benefits to $1,300 a month for a typical retired couple, the Social Security Administration estimates.

By contrast, a 65-year-old man and wife retiring this year will receive $280.20 a month if the husband worked at the median wage each year of his employment.

Projections of benefits that could develop if the bill becomes law were made available in the wake of public attention given payroll-tax hikes written into the legislation on which the House may vote next week.

The maximum payment by an employe, watched by his employer, is $405.60 this year. The maximum, under the bill, will go to at least $754.80 in 1977, an 86-per-cent increase.

But Social Security mathematicians, using the man in the middle, developed figures showing a highly favorable benefit-to-contribution ratio.

The legislation introduces new variables into Social Security by linking future contributions and benefits to the cost of living and wage levels, so the calculations are based on estimates of what may happen in the next 30 years.

Here's an example:

Mr. A, a median earner, and his wife are 36 and will retire at 65 in January 2000. A will live to be 78 and Mrs. A will live three years after her husband's death.

At the time of retirement, the couple's monthly benefit, under terms of the pending bill and Social Security's economic assumptions, would be $1,042.50. Under present law, they would receive only $414.90.

By the last year of A's life—still under the new bill—the couple would be receiving $1,311.90 a month. After A's death, the widow would receive a benefit starting at $915.80 and reaching $958.90.

Over his working years, A would have contributed $30,905 in payroll taxes, 78 per cent more than present law would require. But he and his wife would draw out in cash benefits $213,919, or 193 per cent more than present law provides. In addition, they would have Medicare, currently estimated to be worth $31 a month, and he would have had protection during his working years against disability and death while his children were minors.
